Ross in Cincinnati

In 2008, Ross Medical Education Center, based in St. Clair, MI, acquired the Institute for Medical & Dental Technology, which had been a presence in the Cincinnati area for nearly 30 years. Students enrolled in the Medical Assistant, Dental Assistant or Medical Insurance Billing and Office Administration programs receive a diploma once all coursework and externship requirements have been met. In addition, students have access to career development coordinators at any of the school's 15 locations in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. A high school diploma or GED is required for admission for all programs.

Ross students receive hands-on training using state-of-the-art equipment beginning on the very first day of class. Practical instruction from experts in the field prepares each student for their required externship. Campus director, Laura Kruze, said, "We're fortunate to have longtime partnerships with local employers, who have not only offered many externship opportunities to our students, but are eager to hire Ross graduates based upon their skill set and the thorough preparation they receive."
